4 proud to be here and to see the students and

6 and their comments.

7 This afternoon I interviewed Commissioner
8 Adelstein. I asked him how to best craft a testimony, 9 and he replied I should speak from my own personal 10 experiences. I've chosen to follow that advice.

11 Like many, I listen to the radio or watch 12 TV before heading out each morning. Some stations are 13 better than others, but I always have the opportunity 14 of changing it to something else. But, my mother, on 15 the other hand, only speaks Spanish.

16 If she decides to watch TV, she has two 17 stations she can get her information from, and if she 18 decides instead to listen to the radio, she has a few 19 more options. But, guess what? The majority of these 20 other "options" are owned by the same non-Latino
21 company that owns 50 percent of Spanish language
22 Chicago TV stations.

23 The FCC regulations regulates media
24 ownership, and are obligated to make sure there's 25 competition, diversity, and localism.

1 FCC has failed in the efforts to foster more minority 2 perspectives in mainstream media. It will be 3 inconsiderable so that large media owners buy out more 4 local media outlets before readdressing the agency's 5 failure to foster minority voices in the media.

6 Less than half of our every local news
7 program often trials and death are the key issues that 8 would have affect on the lives of people in the 9 viewing area. One third of the news stories about 10 incidents, crimes, fires, and 15 percent are political

12 Women and people of color not only are 13 absent in Chicago news, they are also on the under-14 represented as media owners. Women are outnumbered 15 two to one in the news while White male, and official, 16 dominate news coverage.

1 I really want to speak to what being on 2 that Board does. It provides me access to people at 3 Clear Channel, it allows me an opportunity to get the 4 message out that I want to get out. In my role as an 5 Assistant Commissioner of Health, I have the 6 responsibility for the health and well-being of over 7 three million people in the City of Chicago. Being on 8 that Board allows me to get my message out to those 9 people.

10 Last year there was an issue that was 11 raised among the Board regarding childhood 12 immunizations prior to entry to school in the fall of 13 the year. Clear Channel took that on as a challenge.

14 They developed a series of public service
15 announcements. I worked with the Chicago public 16 schools. We established additional sites for 17 immunizations. As I understand, immunizations for 18 that school year went up.

19 So that's one example of how a radio
20 station and a company can, in fact, work with people 21 in the community to bring about positive change. So I 22 want to thank you for your time. I want to commend

15 Good night, Chairman. My name is Oscaria
16 Reyes. And as a consumer and young Latina journalist, 17 I want to hear and see pieces that will help advance 18 the public and people like myself. Yet, what 19 mainstream media has done lately is serve themselves.

20 As radio and TV stations get bigger, their 21 connection with the community gets smaller. I feel 22 that much of what my local TV and radio stations air 23 is redundant, and I find that it is pointless that 24 almost every station airs the same thing. Instead of 25 airing the same thing every hour, my local could

1 concentrate more on the community, which is something 2 they have lacked.

3 I find myself watching different news
4 stations on the hour, yet what I hear on these 5 stations is practically the same. The news
6 programming is increasing, it's coverage on certain 7 communities also is decreasing, and when they do cover 8 these communities, it is in a negative way, 9 encouraging the stereotypes of minorities.

10 Chicago is a very diverse city, but its 11 media is not. I am interested in more local content 12 and less commercialism, for big media stations to 13 accurately present the diversity in my community. It 14 is evident that mainstream media is not doing its job 15 to serve the community.

16 Just look at the number of increasing low 17 power radio stations to create their own ways of 18 communicating to the locals. So, Chairman of the FCC, 19 I ask you to do your job. More opportunities should 20 be given to local stations, such as WRTE, Radio Arte'

2     chance at a job in my future, without facing any 3     discrimination for being a Latina woman coming from a 4     so-called minority group.

5             I would like to let you know how important 6     it is to stop big media ownership from controlling 7     even more media outlets. Currently there is a severe
8     lack of diversity in the airwaves and in local TV 9     broadcasting due to the fact that major companies have 10    control over the media.

11            Right now our media is ruled by 12    commercialism, advertising, and because of this local 13    problems and events are not being covered 14    appropriately, or sometimes not even at all. I would 15    like to see the percentages of Asian, Latinos,

17    owning more airwaves and TV outlets so that we can

1 media ownership consolidation. Thank you.

2 MODERATOR SIGALOS: Thank you.

3 (Applause.)

4 MODERATOR SIGALOS: Tanya Unzueta?

5 MS. UNZUETA: Hi. My name is Tanya
6 Unzueta, and I'm the Director of Youth and Community
7 Programming at Radio Arte', which offers a free 8 journalism and broadcasting program.

9 And every day I work with these young 10 people between the ages of 15 and 22, some of whom 11 you've heard from today, who are intelligent, who 12 understand the power of media over communities, and 13 who are passionate about the work that they're 14 beginning to do as your journalists.

15 Too many times, however, I have seen that 16 passion frustrated as they move from our training 17 program to work for the only media jobs in our 18 language, those provided by large media conglomerates
19 in Chicago, particularly by Univision Radio.

20 The jobs that these companies offer are 21 limited to production of entertainment shows, some of 22 which have been reprimanded by our community for 23 defamatory language, in particular towards women and 24 the gay community.

25 There are no jobs available for young

1 people in the media who want to create intelligent, 2 local, and informative programming, particularly for 3 the Spanish speaking community. And if our youth want 4 a job in the media, they have to adjust to the 5 standards of one company or be outcast from the radio 6 broadcast world.

7 I think that the reality is that this -- 8 that the radio for community that helps people will 9 not be a possibility as long as media are in the hands 10 of few companies whose interests are not in educating, 11 but in entertaining and making money. Thank you.

12 MODERATOR SIGALOS: Thank you.

13 (Applause.)

14 MODERATOR SIGALOS: Reverend James Demus?

15 (No response.)

16 MODERATOR SIGALOS: Jonathan Farnick?

17 MR. FARNICK: Hi. I'm John Farnick.
18 Thanks for -- to Operation Push for hosting, and the 19 FCC Commission for holding these hearings.

20 Many people today have talked about the 21 media consolidation and the real and perceived 22 problems of ownership, lack of diversity and such, and 23 local operation. I'm here to talk about the problem 24 of framing -- excuse me, coverage. Specifically if 25 it's covered in the first place, and framing.

1           There's a debate in Congress as we speak 2 about the telecommunications company and the 3 legislation being requested by the Administration
4 asking for immunity for NSA wire tapping scandals.
5 Article 2, Section 3 states that the President must 6 see that all laws are faithfully executed. By 7 demanding immunity from prosecution begs the 8 questions, have these companies broken the law?

9           You were tasked to look into this. You
10 declined, citing not jurisdiction, but clearance. Did 11 he ask for clearance? Did your Inspector General 12 refer the complaint to the Department of Justice?
13 Does Mr. McConnell's long standing ties to the 14 telecommunications industry bring to concern to you 15 about this?

16           Is that debate being covered in mainstream 17 media? Is the restoration of habeas corpus being 18 talked about on talk radio? Are the troops being 19 asked about their views of the web amendment? Are 20 the people downwind asked about their views if we drop 21 nukes on Iran?

22           The latest poll of Congress gives them an 23 11 percent approval rating. Is the coverage about 24 republican obstruction in an unprecedented number of 25 filibusters? Or is the frame a democratic weakness

5 MODERATOR SIGALOS: Thank you very much.

9 Warshaw, Earl Moore, David LaReau, David Nekimken, H.

11 please come forward.

12 I also want to make one other note that it 13 is past 11:00. Some of you may have noticed, which 14 had been the official concluding time of today's 15 hearing. But at this point we -- it is our strong 16 desire to hear everyone who has signed up to hear 17 their public comments, and so we're going to continue 18 forward. Okay.

20 MODERATOR SIGALOS: Richard Potter.

21 MR. POTTER: Thank you all for staying with 22 us. I'm Richard Potter, an independent video 23 producer, currently in post-production on a 70 minute
24 feature. I co-wrote, produced, directed and edited 25 the movie. My investment has been three years and

1 some $30,000, money hobbled together from grants,
2 donors, and my own pocket. It's not much of a budget
3 for 70 minutes of quality fiction, but it's a whole 4 lot for me.

5 I'm proud of the movie and I want people to 6 see the movie, but I'm worried that few will. That's 7 because I didn't produce it according to the standards
8 of the profit oriented corporate media system. I 9 didn't use famous actors, there's no sex, violence, or 10 cutting edge special effects. Perhaps most damaging, 11 my movie is in Spanish with Latino actors.

12 I intend it as a commentary on relations 13 between Latin America and our great republic. My 14 movie is not a commodity, but the expression of an 15 artistic and political vision. I'd like to share it 16 with all Chicagoans, but especially the 26 percent of 17 the city that identifies has Latino and/or Hispanic.
18 But when that same 26 percent owns only 1 percent of 19 the city's TV stations, the prospects for my movie 20 distribution are dim.

21 If you, the Commissioners of the FCC, allow 22 further media consolidation, those prospects will grow 23 even dimmer. If you do not protect public access, 24 those prospects may blink altogether.

25 If, however, you require the stewards of

1 our public airwaves to broadcast truly independent

3 only to artists and producers like myself, but to the 4 continuing advance of the democratic ideal. Thank 5 you.

6 MODERATOR SIGALOS: Thank you.

7 (Applause.)

8 MODERATOR SIGALOS: Max Rodriguez.

9 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Yes. Here. Thank you for 10 meeting with us. I've actually had the pleasure of 11 meeting some of you this past summer, especially 12 Michael Copps.

13 The first thing I'd like to say is that you 14 should definitely -- if you want to hear from the 15 public, hold the hearing on a weekend when working 16 class people could actually be here.

17 And another thing is that I'm not paid to 18 be here, unlike some of the corporate shills you heard 19 from earlier tonight.

20 (Applause and cheering.)

21 MR. RODRIGUEZ: So everyone should ask 22 themselves, do they see themselves represented by the 23 media with their interest, their concerns receiving 24 attention. The answer is no. The Chicago media 25 market has been devastated by consolidation.

1 I was general manager of my college radio
2 station back in New York City, and we faced an upward
3 battle against the same media conglomerates found
4 here. Clear Channel and CBS have ruined Chicago's 5 media market.

6 The radio, a medium ideally suited to 7 localism must not continue down the path of corporate 8 control. We must not allow the same companies that 9 control all the radio stations in Chicago to continue 10 their strangle hold on radio across the United States.

11 You can drive 3,000 miles across the United States, 12 from New York City to Chicago to Los Angeles, and 13 listen to the same exact songs over and over again.

14 Diversity in ownership will lead to 15 diversity of programming. For once, give people in 16 the community a real chance at owning their own radio 17 stations, to create their own programming that 18 reflects their own concerns.

19 There's some real concrete ways you could 20 take to address this. Bring back the minority tax 21 certificate program, which was done away in the mid 22 1990s, and I urge you to not sit on your hands and to 23 truly take action.

24 MODERATOR SIGALOS: Thank you.

1 MODERATOR SIGALOS: Matt Crain.

2 MR. CRAIN: Hello. I'd like to thank you 3 guys very much for being with us this late in the 4 evening. All these people are here too, this is 5 important, and this is a great opportunity.

6 Like he said, my name is Matt Crain. I've 7 lived in Chicago for three years in diverse
8 neighborhoods such as uptown and Roscoe Village. I 9 had a prepared statement. I was going to talk about 10 my own experiences with the lack of locally relevant 11 news on the radio, and the cookie cutter music
12 playlists, but I think so many of the people here 13 tonight have already done a great job illustrating the 14 tremendous importance and fragility of localism in 15 Chicago's media landscape.

16 So instead, I just want to say a few words
17 about the cross-ownership ban, which is under review.

18 Industry groups like the National Association of 19 Broadcasters argue that this ban should be lifted 20 because it's old, it's unnecessary, and it's indeed 21 detrimental to their business. They say new 22 technologies, like the internet, are cutting into 23 their market share monopolies.

24 But I'd like to draw attention to just one
25 point that's often overlooked, huge media
